GENERAL NEWS.

A Secret Meeting of Prominent Irishmen at Chicago.

SUPPOSED TO BE THE DYNAMITE CROWD.

Intense Heat in Wisconsin—Notorious Crowe to take the Lecture Field—Gorham's Delusion—Etc., Etc.

SPECIAL [illegible] TO THE OREGONIAN.

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—It has just been [illegible] that ever since Monday morning a mysterious [illegible] of prominent Irishmen, numbering [illegible] hundred, has been in session at one of the hotels in this city. Their deliberations have been held under lock and key, and in a room [illegible] otherwise secluded. There are present John Warren of Lowell, Mass., a strong friend of Ben Butler; Thos. C. Quinn, a co-laborer of Crowe; Geo. J. West, of Providence, lawyer and secretary of one branch of the land league; Rev. Father Geo. C. Bates, of St. Louis; Geo. [illegible] Cunningham, of New Haven, and many other well known agitators. Nobody has been let into their secrets and their meetings have excluded all reporters. It has, however, leaked out that these men are the dynamite crowd; that their deliberations are [illegible] whether dynamite shall be used against England but as to the most feasible way of using it. The discussion seemed to take it for granted that there were Irish patriots as much devoted to their ideas as are the nihilist band; that there would be no difficulty in finding Irishmen who would adopt the possibility or even a certainty of death if by it they might do great and serious damage to England. The plans were elaborate, it is said, by which dynamite was to be furnished and used on the vessels and in cities. They considered the question of how to get better manufacturers of infernal machines in the United States and in France. Their financial condition was reported as being sound and the treasury contains nearly one hundred thousand dollars for a skirmishing fund, and committees have been appointed to provide for the future and levy a tax to raise more. A delegation of city priests waited on the members of this conclave to-day and begged with solemn abjurations and impressive arguments to desist from their plots and adjourn at once. They refused to listen to such arguments and advice, saying that they came here for business and were determined to accomplish their purpose. The meeting will probably terminate to-morrow.

Crowe to take the Lecture Field.

PEORIA, Ill., Aug. 5.—P. W. Crowe, of infernal machine notoriety, is about to enter the lecture field. His subject will be, "What I know about Infernal machines." He still insists that the machines sent to Liverpool were manufactured here.

Deaths from Explosion.

Fourteen deaths from the explosion at Wooiner's distillery, have thus far occurred. The remaining four victims are doing well.

Extensive Railroad Operations.

DENVER, Aug. 5.—The opening of the Denver & Rio Grande road to Durango 450 miles from Denver in southwestern Colorado was celebrated there to-day.

This is the completion of one of the several extensions of that road now being constructed in this state. The extension just finished is 200 miles long, beginning at Alamosa on the Rio Grande and terminating in the Animas valley. In this valley are immense coal deposits a hundred miles wide. It is also the natural southern outlet for the rich mining district of San Juan, which has been but little developed owing to want of proper transportation facilities. Other extensions will tap San Juan on the east and north, a region covering an area equal to the state of Massachusetts and intersected by various mountain ranges and traversed by many rivers. At present three thousand men are employed on this extension and about three miles of track are laid daily. In April, 1880, 337 miles of road were operated. The first of this month 835 miles were in operation, showing during the last 16 months 458 miles of road have been completed. These roads are being built in a mountainous country. It will tap the iron of a state rich in mineral resources. Eight hundred and fifty miles more road are now under contract, and construction is being pushed as far as the Utah border. The extension to Gunnison City will be completed on Monday next. The other extensions to mining camps are being pressed forward to completion before early snows. The increase of miles of road operated and great development of industries of the state, have caused proportionate increase in earnings. In 1880 the gross earnings for seven months, ending July 31, were $1,439,469 40. For the same time in 1881, $3,101,042 87. The net earnings for the first six months in 1880, were $520,213 55, and for the same time this year, $1,173,630 65.

The Mail Bag Controversy.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The Times, noting certain comments of the Canada postoffice on the mail bag controversy, says they appear to mean that an artificial scarcity of mail bags in the United States was created for the benefit of certain favored contractors, and that employes of our postoffice were only too ready to encourage their needy brethren on the other side of the border in using property which did not belong to them. There seems to be room here for further investigation.

Preachers turned Life Insurers.

The Sun says Rev. Dr. Stephen H. Tyng, Jr., and Rev. John A. Bachi, his assistant in the church of the holy trinity, went from the ministry into the life insurance business. Tyng is now resident director in Paris of the Equitable, and Bachi is general agent of the same company, having an office at 22 Liberty street. Tyng and Bachi have also formed a partnership of their own under the title of John O. Bachi & Co. When Tyng went to Paris, June 1st, he left with Bachi a young man named R. P. Cooper as clerk. Cooper is 28 years of age and has an extremely pleasing address. His first venture was to borrow thirty dollars, ostensibly to attend his mother's funeral, but really to go on a lark to Coney Island. Cooper had been given the keys to Tyng's apartments in Florence Flats, 4th avenue. He would occasionally open and air them. He did more. He made them a delightful place for the entertainment of his friends, whom he regaled in sumptuous manner among the doctor's beautiful household goods. After a variety of similar adventures the young man was dismissed. He has not yet been arrested.

Gorham's Delusion.

The Tribune thinks Geo. C. Gorham is still laboring under the delusion that he is a continuing candidate of the republican senators for secretary of the senate. The Washington newspaper, of which he is said to be editor, spoke of him a day or two ago, as "the present candidate for the position," and adds that his election was only deferred through the deadlock, which characterized the extra session of the senate last spring. If Gorham is anything except a conscienceless adventurer which may perhaps be doubted, he is an anti-administration man. That of itself ought to be and no doubt will settle the business. We observe in the republican newspapers a mild but determined objection to Gorham's attempt to load himself again upon the party.

Bankers' Convention.

The bankers' association to be held at Niagara Falls next week promises to be the largest gathering of this kind ever held in the country. There are to be fewer long essays, a greater number of speakers, and a more improved address on the opening day of the convention. Lloyd Tevis, of California, will read a paper on "The Industrial Growth of California."

Sam Shing's Arrest.

The World says, regarding the arrest of Sam Shing, the Chinese merchant who is accused of having stolen several thousand dollars' worth of goods from E. Isaacs & Bro., importers of Chinese and Japanese goods, Broadway: He has stores in Philadelphia, Charleston, Atlantic City, N. J., Washington and San Francisco. It is said Shing is wealthy. He has been only two years in the country.

Indictments for Libel.

The grand jury ordered an indictment for libel against John W. Look, private detective, who supplied the facts for the sensational article recently published in a newspaper here regarding the robbery of Stewart's remains. The alleged libel consisted in stating that John F. Barrett had received $12,000 for returning the bonds stolen from the Manhattan bank.

Mining News.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The Mining and Scientific Press reports as follows concerning stock. The market for the past seven days in mining stocks has been active, and in past few days the volume of business has been large. Hibernia has again become active, 56,000 shs. selling yesterday $1. The price declined to 53 cents upon a report that the mine is exhausted. State Lines stocks are active and irregular, advancing to-day to highest prices of the week. Yesterday John B. Alley of Boston, was elected president of state line companies Nos. 2 and 3. Oriental and Miller advanced in sympathy with state lines. Dealers generally anticipate a livelier market and better prices than have ruled lately.

During the week the following dividends were declared or paid: Copper Queen, 10 cents per share; Tombstone, 10; Iron Sulphur, 50; La Plata, 7½; Robinson Consolidated, 25; Standford, 75; Alice, 50. Total bullion receipts for week $238,153. Total sales mining stocks over 870,000 shares.

Embezzlement.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Geo. Stewart, secretary of the board of education, was arrested to-night on charge of having embezzled $10,000.

Murderous Redskins.

DENVER, Aug. 5.—A Santa Fe special says: A courier came into Fort Craig this morning who reports that the Mescalero Indians, who have since the 11th inst. been pursued by Lieut. Guilfoyle's command, have crossed the Rio Grande and are running off stock and killing herders in Old Mexico. So far as is known two herders and one miner have been killed and the Indians have captured all the stock of Carns & McConkey's stage line from Eagle station to Black Range. Yesterday thirty-six citizens left San Marcial, armed and mounted, to bury dead bodies of the killed. At noon yesterday while eating dinner in Red Canyon in the San Mateo mountains, they were surprised by Indians and in the first fire one man was killed and several wounded and stock captured. Remainder of the whites got behind rocks and despatched a courier to Fort Craig for help. General [illegible] ordered Lieut. Guilfoyle's command of 50 men then at Fort Craig to the scene of the fight where they have probably arrived before this time. Couriers have been despatched to two companies of cavalry scouting in the Mateo and Chapullo Navajo [illegible], and Lieut. Taylor's detachment [illegible] Indian scouts is guarding and scouting the Black range. The companies of cavalry leave Navajo reservation for Black range to-morrow. Hanged at Last.

SYRACUSE, Aug. 5.—Nathan Orlando Greenfield was executed this forenoon for the murder of his wife Alice at Clerwell, Oswego county, Oct. 15, 1878. The case was remarkable for the stubborn contest in the courts, in three trials the jury disagreeing and twice finding him guilty. Three death sentences and five stays and reprieves. The execution took place two years nine months after the crime was committed. After so many escapes from the gallows Greenfield was confident he would not be hanged, and gave up hope of commutation only under the gallows. The execution took place in the jail in the presence of 200 persons, official witnesses and press representatives. The prisoner was cool and unconcerned. Being asked if he had anything to say he replied nothing. The drop was sprung at 11 o'clock. A scene took place just before the execution. The prisoner's brother insisted on standing by him to the last, declaring him to be innocent. This the sheriff refused as unlawful.

Greenfield had an affecting interview with his brother and cousin this morning. He assured them he was innocent, and ready to die. The chaplain implored him to confess. He protested his innocence, and fervently prayed for mercy upon himself and the enemies who perjured themselves on his trial. He went calmly and unfalteringly to the scaffold. The sheriff asked if he had any confession. He said, "I have none. As Christ is good it is true I am innocent."

Virginia Politics.

RICHMOND, Aug. 5.—The conservative convention nominated P. W. McKinney for attorney general and adjourned sine die.

Heavy Loss.

BOSTON, Aug. 5.—The loss of the cargo of the ship Calcutta is fully $200,000.

Coal Products.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 5.—The restriction of coal production is discussed, and it is probable freight room is scarce though orders are plenty.

Paying for Electing a Reporter.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 5.—Judge Higley of the police court assessed costs against the board of education because its sergeant-at-arms had forcibly ejected a reporter who was present at the executive session and again refused to let him sit at an open session. The reporter had the president arrested.

National Teachers' Association.

DAVENPORT, Aug. 5.—The German-American National association of teachers closed a four days' session to-day by the election of the following officers: President, L. R. Klemm, Cincinnati; secretary, H. H. Fiske, Cincinnati; treasurer, G. H. Dorger, Cincinnati; directors, I. Keller of Milwaukee, E. H. Hoboken and W. S. Hallman of Detroit, A. L. Soldan of St. Louis and C. Grebner of Baltimore. After committees were appointed the session adjourned to meet in Buffalo next year.

Money and Stocks.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Silver bars, 111½; money easy, 2½; governments quiet; stocks closed weak; W. U., 88¼; Quicksilver, 20; Pacific, 52½; Mariposa, 2¼; Wells Fargo, 127; N. Y. C., 143¼; Erie 43¼; Panama, offered, 250; U. P., 126¾; bonds, 118¾; C. P., 93; bonds, 115½; Sutro, 1½; Tombstone, 5; Mineral Creek, 57.

WASHINGTON CITY.

The President Doing without Morphine.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, Aug. 5, 8:30 A. M.—Official bulletin. The president slept naturally a greater part of the night, although he has taken no morphia in the last 24 hours. His improved condition warranted several days ago a diminution in the quantity of morphia administered hypodermically at bedtime and it was reduced at first to one-twelfth and afterward to one-sixteenth of a grain in 24 hours without any consequent unpleasant result and finally has been altogether dispensed with. His condition this morning indicates continued improvement and another good day is anticipated. At present his pulse is 88, temperature 98.4, respiration 18.

11:15 A. M.—The president continues to make slow but steady progress toward recovery. He ate about the usual quantity of breakfast this forenoon, consisting of beefsteak, potatoes, toast and milk. He has up to this hour rested quietly and comfortably. His pulse is not high; he is entirely free from fever.

The 7 P. M. Bulletin.

7 P. M.—The president passed another good day. The appearance of the wound and character and amount of discharge of pus continues satisfactory. He has taken an adequate quantity of nourishment, and has had pleasant naps during the day. At 12:30, P. M. his pulse was 88, temperature 98, respiration 18. After 4 P. M. his temperature began to rise as usual, but to a moderate degree and without perceptible dryness of skin. At present his pulse is 102, temperature 104, respiration 14.

11:30 P. M.—Little can be added to-night to the details of the president's case given in official bulletins. He has passed a quiet, uneventful day, taking about the same amount of solid and liquid nourishment as yesterday, and sleeping quietly at intervals without anodynes. His tongue, which has long shown evidence of fever and disordered condition of the mucous membrane, is now assuming a natural appearance. There is no noticeable improvement in the processes of digestion and assimilation. The wound continues to present a healthy appearance. The discharge is in every respect satisfactory and there is strong probability, although it is not founded on positive evidence, that the ball is becoming encysted. The patient's temperature at the evening's examination was two-tenths of a degree higher than yesterday, but the febrile rise was of short duration and at this hour the temperature and respiration have fallen below 100. The hypodermic injection of sulphate of morphine was again omitted to-night and the patient is sleeping quietly without it. Surgeons report his progress toward recovery has been entirely satisfactory.

Guiteau in Jail—His Temper.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The Tribune's Washington special says: A gentleman who conversed with one of the wardens of the district jail last evening elicited the following information in regard to Guiteau: When first arrested the prisoner appeared to be laboring to gain the good will of those about him. He was easily satisfied and found no occasion for grumbling. Lately he has changed and exhibits great irritability, manifesting a wish to wreak speedy vengeance upon any attendant who offends him. When the president's relapse took place Guiteau learned of it in some unknown way and manifested his satisfaction. He adheres to the story that he was an instrument of God's will in the matter, and assumed to believe that the death of the president would be a confirmation of his theory. He seems to be in constant dread of violence, and when on one or two occasions he has been taken to the warden's room to see the district attorney, he has requested that the windows be closed or that he be returned to his cell. His study of the bible seems to be for the purpose of finding precedents for his act. He points to the command given to Abraham to slay Isaac as one precedent, saying, in that case God furnished a substitute for the victim. In this he may choose to save the life of the victim in another way. The jail authorities are still apprehensive of violence, having information that secret organizations exist not only here but in other cities for the purpose of killing Guiteau. Guiteau looks forward to his trial with some impatience. He expects to make a profound impression as a lawyer on that occasion.

Commodore Nicholson to go to Europe.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5. The secretary of the navy, Wednesday, unexpectedly took action regarding the detail to command European fleets. He officially informed Commodore John W. Nicholson, lately in command at the Brooklyn navy yard that he was to command the European station and requested him to recommend any particular officers he desired. Secretary Hunt said that Rear Admiral Donald M. Fairfax, now commanding the naval asylum at Philadelphia, some months ago accepted the European detail, but recently changed his mind and requested to be retired, having served 40 years. Nicholson was the next officer in rank. This position is most sought for in all the fleet. An officer says Fairfax was delighted with being chosen and began making preparations. He applied to Secretary Hunt for permission to take his wife and family, which was refused and he was unable to get the refusal revoked, hence he resigned.

Hartman's Expedition.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The state department refuses to state what will be the policy of the government in case Russia demands the extradition of Hartman. Russia has not even asked the examination of the case yet.

Decision Regarding Land for Reservations.

The attorney general recently rendered a decision which has been adopted by the secretary of war and concurred in by the secretary of the interior relative to the right of the president to establish military reservations on public lands, the attorney general holding that this power is conceded to the president by the courts and sanctioned by various acts of congress, that such reservations may be made upon lands claimed for pre-emption by settlers who have not made final proof and payment for lands, but that homestead entry segregates the land of the public domain by original entry, and therefore military reservations cannot be declared upon lands entered under homestead laws.

EUROPEAN AFFAIRS.

Noyes and Morton make the Speeches.

[illegible]

General Noyes, in presenting his letter of recall said:

Mr. President: It is a most agreeable duty to transmit to your excellency the cordial and best wishes of the president of the United States, now unfortunately confined to bed suffering, for your health and happiness, and peace and prosperity for the great nation over which you preside so worthily. The president hopes sincerely that the sentiments of friendships until now existing between France and America, will increase, so as to become perpetual, and that the two nations acting with most entire harmony will thus be able to give the world a favorable example of republican institutions." Gen. Noyes concluded by expressing his own sentiments of gratitude for four years of uniform courtesy by the government and the people. He leaves his best wishes for the president, and the continued peace and prosperity of the French people.

The Land Bill.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—In the house of lords an amendment offered by Earl Donoughmore, conservative, to clause five, limiting the compensation for disturbance to £250, opposed by the government was carried, 169 to 69. The Duke of Argyle voted with the minority.

Lord Salisbury's amendment to clause seven, that the words "the court" should have reference to the interest of tenant and land-holder respectively, be stricken out, carried, 181 to 91.

Lord Lansdown's amendment to clause to strike out the words "prohibiting the court from entertaining a proposal for resumption of any part of the holding for any purpose other than for providing for laborers, cottages and wardens during the statutory term." Carried, 193 to 77.

Lord Inchiquin's amendment excluding tenancies of 100 pounds and upwards, from the operation of the bill was withdrawn on Lord Lansdown stating he favored it, but that in view of Gladstone's statement in regard to it in the house of commons he would not take the responsibility of supporting it in order not to afford an excuse for future agitation. Salisbury also said he hoped the amendment would not be pressed. Debate adjourned until Friday.

Amenities in the House of Commons.

In the house of commons last night, on going into committee of supply, Parnell brought under review the suspension of O'Kelly, home ruler, some weeks ago, for characterizing the statement of Tottenham, conservative, as lying and calumnious. Parnell argued that the standing order under which O'Kelly had been suspended was intended only to check persistent obstruction, and not to punish the hasty use of language; and he blamed the speaker for not giving him an opportunity of withdrawing the language he used on the first instant, when he was suspended by vote of the house for persisting, in spite of the speaker's ruling, in reading the question of the Irish political prisoners. Gladstone commented warmly on the liberty assumed by Parnell of appealing to the rules of the house one night and inciting them the next night, and severely censured him for introducing the subject at a time when it was impossible for the house to pronounce judgment considering that O'Kelly had used the words immediately after O'Connor had been called to order for using the word "mendacious." He thought the charge against the speaker had completely failed.

The Infernal Machines.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—In the commons to-day Harcourt, home secretary, read a dispatch from the United States to Minister Lowell, informing Earl Granville he had wired Secretary Blaine on the 19th of July an account of a conversation he had with Tenterden, under foreign secretary, respecting infernal machines at Liverpool, to which he had received a reply from Blaine stating the national, state and municipal authorities are strenuously endeavoring to discover the authors of a plot in which he had reason to believe very few were engaged, and that no pains will be spared in discovering and prosecuting them.

Movements of the Parnellites and the Government.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—In view of the avowed determination of a few Parnellites to obstruct business of the commons, the views of the opposition have been ascertained in regard to the urgency for the supply. The result of the inquiry encouraged the government. It is believed the question of releasing some of the prisoners in Kilmainham jail will be deliberated upon at an early cabinet council. It is stated a deputation of prominent conservatives is about to go to Ireland to inquire into and report upon the condition of laborers lying respectively under and working for resident and non-resident landlords and farmers. The object of the deputation is to form a basis by its report for legislation upon the labor question.

Bradlaugh in Court.

Bradlaugh did not appear at Westminster to-day. He appeared at Bow street police court and presented information upon which he demanded a summons against the police for assault, which simply alleged an assault had been committed upon him. The magistrate said this was insufficient; that Bradlaugh appeared to have invited the assault; that he should have refused the summons if all the facts were before him, and certainly should on what appeared in the information. Bradlaugh intends to proceed further by mandamus.

Sentenced.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—In the central criminal court Patrick Talfourd Hickey was convicted of threatening to kill Forster, chief secretary for Ireland, and sentenced to fifteen months' imprisonment at hard labor.

Strike in Cork.

CORK, Aug. 4.—The laborers' strike is everywhere extending. At Queenstown Mallow and at different centers of labor men joined the movement. The strike merged into a general agitation for an increase of wages. Employes are stubborn.

An English Surgical Opinion.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—The Lancet says: It is to be remembered, unless President Garfield's bullet causes local disturbance it would not be in accordance with modern surgical practice to attempt its removal.

A Total Loss.

CAPE TOWN, Aug. 5.—The American ship Calcutta, Capt. Smith, from Cebu, Philippine islands, May 3d, of and for Boston, was totally wrecked on the coast of Eildarskia. Only three of the crew were saved. The Calcutta sailed from Cebu with a cargo of sugar and hemp, valued at about $200,000.

Affairs in British Asia.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The viceroy of India telegraphs the Indian office as follows: News from Candahar states that the country is quiet. A report from Lahore that 19 lazaras and others had been murdered by Afghans before Ayoob Khan's arrival in Candahar is untrue.

Gambetta and Grevy. French Politics.

TOURS, Aug. 5.—Gambetta, at a banquet, warmly eulogized Grevy, and regretted that the legislature had not adopted the scrutin De Liste, and avoided the opportunity of consulting the democratic party in broader and deeper manner than at present. Gambetta declared himself a partisan of the existence of two chambers in spite of faults committed by the senate, but desired to see the two houses animated by one spirit. He would try to modify the electoral system, and questioned if the irremovability of senators was not contrary to the principal of universal suffrage. He advocated a complete secular primary education, and measures tending to make the entrance and examinations for the public service independent of private means. France, he said, would never find that she paid too dearly for intellectual culture. He summed up what he thought must be asked for universal suffrage as follows: Constitutional reform of the senate, construction of a majority truly representing country and administrative reform. France would solve other questions to be raised because she is democratic from her very heart. In a few days she will loudly proclaim what she desires. What we have to fear is not revolution, not the spirit of stupidity or resistance, which will enter the minority or one. If there be division it will be one of rivalry for the performance of duty, not for the attainment of power. Prolonged cheering greeted his speech.

French Politics.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The Herald's Paris special says a letter of Baron Haussmann which appears in this morning's Figaro announces that the Dutch has determined to retain "as a Bonapartist candidate in Corsica." The death of the prince imperial was a terrible blow to the imperial party, he says, and the revival of the cause seems to him not [illegible] and [illegible] to be taken as a reply to the manifesto of Prince Napoleon.

Albany Democrat: Last week at the freight depot about all you could see was farm machinery and implements. This week a change has taken place, and from the bales of grain sacks that arrived a stranger might suppose the intention was to sack this whole country up and ship it out by the car load.

Geo. Heldt, of San Francisco, formerly superintendent of the Pioneer woolen mills of that city has been in Albany several days looking over the prospects for establishing a woolen mill there. He is very much impressed with the water power and facilities there and will make a strong effort to put matters in shape and bring capital to build a mill.

Brisbine's saloon at North Yamhill was burned to the ground last Monday night. Nothing was saved from the building except the proprietor's books. The fire was discovered at about 1 o'clock A. A handsome tribute to the late Reason B. Willoughby was last week erected by his family in the cemetery near their residence east of Harrisburg. The structure stands in all a little over ten feet high and consists of two stone bases, one Italian marble base, a mounted die, a round, fluted and capped column, and the whole surmounted by an elegantly draped and flowered urn.

Reporter: The North Yamhill river channel up at the foot of the mountains is jam full of saw logs, which will be floated down to various mills in the valley on the first flood. The Messrs. They were monsters.

DECISION OF U. S. CIRCUIT COURT BY JUDGE DEADY.

[illegible]

On May 22, 1877, a patent was issued to [illegible] Wm. S. Plummer for an alleged new and useful improvement in fruit driers [illegible] for the term of 17 years, and on October [illegible] of the same year a reissue of said patent [illegible] was made to him. The specification of the second patent states that the object of this invention is to furnish an improved apparatus for drying fruit, which shall be simple in construction, convenient in use, and effective in operation, drying the fruit rapidly and evenly, and which shall be so constructed that it may be readily taken down, set up and moved from place to place;" and "that the invention consists in the case provided in its lower part with a lining set at a little distance from its walls, the large door, the small door, the cleats or slides to receive the fruit frames or trays, the doors, and the cover and cap to allow the moisture-laden air to escape, to adapt it for use in drying fruit."

Having thus described his invention, he claims as new: "The case A, provided in its lower part with a lining, B, set at a little distance from its walls, the large door G, the small door H, the cleats or slides I, to receive the fruit frames or trays, and the cover and cap L. M. to allow the moisture-laden air to escape, substantially as herein shown and described, to adapt it for use in drying fruit."

On December 1, 1879, the plaintiff—The Corvallis Fruit Company—became the lawful assignee of said patents and improvements for the county of Linn, Oregon; and on January 13, 1881, it brought this suit to restrain the defendants from infringing the same by the manufacture and sale of fruit dryers in said county, "produced by the inventions and improvements described and claimed in said letters patent."

On June 27, an application for a provisional injunction was heard upon the bill and sundry affidavits and the models of the respective machines.

The Plummer fruit drier, is a wooden case 3 feet 6 inches square and 6 feet 2 inches high, with a fixed inverted hopper shaped cap or cover having an aperture in which a tube is inserted to allow the steam to escape from within. In the lower part of the case, is the hot air chamber, with a lining of brick or metal at a little distance from the outer wall of the case, to facilitate the ascent of the hot air towards and upon the sides of the case, so as to dry the fruit evenly—upon the edges of the trays as well as the centre.

The air is heated in this chamber by a box-stove or furnace 2 feet long and 1½ feet wide. Above this cleats are fastened to the sides of the case about 4 inches apart, upon which rest the movable trays containing the fruit to be dried, and in front of each tray is a door that opens perpendicularly, through which it can be taken out and replaced.

The defendants admit they are making and vending a fruit drier in Linn county known as the Thomas fruit drier, and claim that it was invented by the defendant, Charles Thomas, and that he has applied for a patent therefor.

Upon the argument it was stated by counsel for the defendants that a decision was daily expected upon this application, and the consideration of this motion has since been delayed to await the result of such application, but as yet nothing has been heard from it, so far as I am advised.

The Thomas drier is similar in form and operation to the Plummer drier, except that the space between the wall and lining of the hot air chamber in the latter is carried in the former up to the top of the case, by means of an inner lining a little distance from the walls of the case. The effect of this, is to distribute the heat more evenly throughout the drying chamber, and to produce a greater uniformity in the results. The cap or cover upon the Thomas drier is flatter than that on the Plummer, and is movable. It is also claimed that it is so shaped inside as that when the hot air from the space between the lining and the wall of the case, strikes it, it is thrown downwards and inwards upon the upper trays of fruit which are otherwise the longer drying.

The other differences are mere differences in form or mechanical contrivance, as in the shape of the stove and the door to the drying chamber, which latter is in one piece and opens horizontally instead of perpendicularly.

The continuation of the space for hot air on sides of the Thomas drier to the top of the case is probably a patentable improvement on the Plummer one; and it may be that the change in the cap is also. But all the rest of the Thomas drier is substantially the same in form and operation as the Plummer one, and therefore an infringement upon the plaintiff's patent.

Upon the argument counsel for the defendant questioned the validity of the plaintiff's patent on the ground that it lacks novelty.

But the patent is prima facie evidence that the patentee is the inventor of the thing patented, and of the novelty and utility thereof. (Curt. pat., § 470 et seq.; Seymour vs. Osborne, 11 Wall, 538.

No attempt has been made to overcome this evidence of novelty except by the introduction of patents for drying or preserving fruit or vegetables as follows: Nos. 121,509, December 5, 1871; 121,795, December 12, 1871; 120,253, October 24, 1871, and 4,792, March 5, 1872. But all the machines described in these, except the last, are very different in form, operation and mechanical contrivance from the Plummer drier, in particular, as they involve the use of machinery for exhausting or blowing the air into or from the machine.

The last one does rely upon the natural tendency of heated air to move upwards, as the Plummer machine does, but its mechanism and contrivance appear much more complex and costly.

It appearing then that the Thomas machine, although in one respect an improvement upon the Plummer one, is in other respects an infringement upon it, and that the defendants are manufacturing and selling their machine for considerably less than the price of the Plummer one, and thereby preventing the sale of the plaintiff's machine, to its manifest injury a provisional injunction will be allowed until the final hearing or the further order of this court, upon giving bond in the sum of $2,000 with sureties to the approval of the master.

THE CATHOLIC CHURCH AND PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

[illegible], Aug. [illegible], 1881.

[illegible] of the Catholic church are [illegible] the public school system [illegible] Their objections do not lie against [illegible] but against the system itself. This view is not in accord with American ideas or republican institutions." If all this be true, there is open antagonism between the Catholic church and the republic of the United States. If American views and republican institutions are identical with the public school system, and if the Catholic church declares war to the latter, it follows that she is in hostility with the former. If so, she must be considered and treated as a public enemy and the public welfare is in danger if she obtains the ascendency. Such are the conclusions, preposterous and false, that flow from your broad assertion. They are serious enough, however, to be taken exception to; and I will, therefore, place the views of the Catholic church in their true light.

It is generally understood by eminent writers that the state is not and ought not to be a teacher, and, therefore, there is no need of schools being provided for the nation by the state. To feed, clothe and teach children, is the work of parents, and it is the latter's right and duty to provide their offspring with the means of education at their own expense. If the state teaches children, let the state feed and clothe them as well. The state is no teacher because the state is no parent, the state is no teacher because the state is too irresponsible, ruled as it generally is, by a ring or a clique. All that the state can claim is a certain right of supervision, and an obligation to assist in educating the children of the poor. The idea of using the public moneys to defray the expense of the education of the rich is revolting to common sense. All this, I repeat, is generally held by the wisest of writers; but this is not the ground taken by the Catholic church to oppose public schools as they exist in this country. The special feature of the latter to which we object is their godlessness. Public schools are considered a danger to the youth and a danger to the country. A danger to the youth, because a system of education divorced from religion must necessarily foster the growth of infidelity. It raises children without the fear of God; it brings them up without curbing their passions by means of God's law, it does not impart to them the knowledge of the solemn sanction that the hereafter gives to the moral law which binds every rational creature; it gives more cleverness, greater ability and more refinement to whatever is wicked in human nature, it puts religion in the background, by making the teaching thereof a matter of indifference, and the natural result of such an education must be a general carelessness in religious matters, a feeling which naturally develops into contempt and aversion towards religion.

Such an education is as a matter of course a danger to the country. I submit that human society is bound to be corrupt and lawless if not restrained by religion. A country peopled by infidels, a nation composed of unbelievers, of men, women and children without religion is a monstrous being, the wickedness, the misery and the crimes of which gives every thinking man a shudder. Such a state of things did exist in the past more than once, and the curse of heaven put every time an end to it. I claim, therefore, that the Catholic church in opposing the godlessness of public schools performs an act of supreme friendship towards American institutions, for if ever any thing ruins the latter, it will be the infidelity and the unprincipled lawlessness of the rising generation. "Let us with caution indulge the supposition that morality can be retained without religion." Such are the words of Washington, the father of his country, which I borrow from his speech of September, 1796. "Whatever may be conceded to the influence of refined education in minds of peculiar structure, reason and experience both forbid us to expect that national morality can prevail in exclusion of religious principle. It is substantially true that virtue or morality is a necessary spring of popular government. The rule indeed extends with more or less force to every species of free government. Who that is a sincere friend to it can look with indifference upon attempts to shake the foundations of the fabric?" What does Washington, in these memorable words convey as to the relation between political prosperity on the one side and religion and morality on the other? Besides that they are inseparable, and that the people cannot be prosperous and happy without being religious and moral. What then are he conveys as to the relations between religion and morality? That both are inseparable, and that there can be no morality without religion. Such are the views of the great patriot, such are also the views of the Catholic church, and I ask, does not the Catholic church stand on the side of patriotism? It is, therefore, the godless system of education with which we are blessed that is anti-American and anti-patriotic.

One word more and I come nde. How do public schools destroy respect for religion in the minds of the youth and foster infidelity? Such is a question we are often asked. I answer: If the state established schools in which all branches of liberal education were taught with the exception of geography, what would children naturally say? They would say, we have to learn grammar, history, arithmetic, etc. Therefore all these things are necessary; but we need not learn geography; therefore, geography is unnecessary; we can live, grow up and get along without geography; geography, therefore, is a thing with which we need not be concerned in the least. Now the state, professing to have supreme control over the education of children, establishes schools from which religion is excluded. What must children think of that? They must think that religion is a needless, unnecessary, burdensome sort of thing to which no respect, no consideration are due; they are allowed to despise it; they are allowed to become infidels. The only remedy to this evil is "to make education more christian." Such are the words of the pope, endorsed by CATHOLICUS.

INDIAN TROUBLES.

The Klootchman who Attacked Sheriff Schnebly and his Deputies Shot in the Body—Her Recovery Doubtful.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE OREGONIAN.

YAKIMA, W. T., Aug. [illegible], 1881.

At an early hour this morning an Indian [illegible] came galloping into town from Fort Simcoe and inquired for Sheriff Schnebly. His mission was to convey a letter written by a Mr. Owens, who lives at the mouth of Alder creek, on the Columbia river, near where Tom-ne-hop-Towne, the escaped murderer of the Perkins family was captured a few days ago. He writes that the klootchman who attacked the officers while they were attempting to secure Tom-ne, is dangerously wounded and will not be likely to recover.

The officers came away in haste (fearing an attack from other Indians in that vicinity) and did not learn the particulars in regard to her wound, but were of the opinion that the ball passed through one of her legs. It appears, however, that it entered her left side about two inches above the hip bone and came out on the other side of the body a little lower down. Mr. Owens writes that the Indians in that neighborhood are very mad, and very much excited over the occurrence, and he has some apprehensions of violence. It seems that he wrote at their request to Sheriff Schnebly to make known their grievances. They think that if the klootchman dies Tom-ne ought to be released. They are believers in the doctrine of vicarious atonement. They also complain that Tom-ne was taken unawares and without proper notice from the officers of their authority to arrest him.

The Indian policeman from the fort explains to Sheriff Schnebly that when he goes to arrest anyone he always displays the glittering badge of his authority from Father Wilbur; but that the officers in this case pretended to be hunting for some lost horses, and while Tom-ne-hop-Towne had drawn very near, to have the brands marked off on the sand, one of the officers sprang on him and pressed him to the ground. The wounded squaw also explains that she didn't know they were officers when she assaulted them. She confesses that she rushed out with the rifle, but says it was not loaded.

Sheriff Schnebly will dispatch medical assistance to the wounded squaw and will send an open letter to Mr. Owens, directing the courier to go by the fort and permit Father Wilbur to read it and take such steps toward the pacification of his wards as he may deem proper. There is not much good feeling existing between the agency and the citizens of Yakima over the fact that the whereabouts of this escaped murderer has been known by many and perhaps all of the agency Indians, while no attempt has been made to secure his restitution, and the citizens will not themselves go to much trouble to secure a reconciliation.

It is well known that Tom-ne-hop-Towne is a desperate character, and it said that he had always declared he would not be captured alive. The manner in which he was "taken in" by officers Tigard and Bunting is therefore regarded as justifiable and proper. It seems to wound the Indians' native pride however, to find that one of their number was outwitted by white men.

CITY.

RACES TO-MORROW.—Lovers of the excitement of turf sport should not forget the [illegible] announced to come off to-morrow afternoon under the auspices of private parties, over the course at the City View park. Some very exciting tests of speed may be confidently expected. As will be seen by the advertisement, $200 in purses will be offered. The steamer City of Quincy and a large barge have been engaged to convey all to the track who may desire to witness the races. Boats will leave Morrison street wharf at 10 and 11:30 A. M. and 1:30 P. M. To and from grounds 75c, ladies free; fare on boat, up and back, 25c. No lady allowed on the grand stand unaccompanied by a gentleman. The best of order will be enforced. A brass band will discourse music on the grounds during the day. Admission to the grand stand 25 cents. The following horses have entered for the mile and repeat: Jack Douglass, Paley Duffy, Lee Merritt. For the ¾ mile dash: Nora Winters, Screwdriver, Mayflower, Heenan, Clark.

TAKING THE VEIL.—On Friday morning the chapel of St. Mary's Academy presented a scene of unusual interest. The occasion was the solemn reception of postulants and novices into the community of the Sisters of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary. The chapel was costly, tastefully and elaborately decorated for the occasion, and was filled with the young ladies' relatives and friends, to witness the beautiful ceremonies of their religious profession. Most Rev. Archbishop Seghers officiated, being assisted by two chaplains, Rev. Fathers Glorieux and Metz. On the occasion Archbishop Seghers delivered an appropriate address to the following young ladies: Sisters Mary Ignatius, Octavia, Mary [illegible] made their perpetual vows; sisters Mary [illegible], Cassilda and Juliana, their temporary vows. Miss Sarah Murphy, in religion Sister Mary Catherine, and Miss Mary Dugan, in religion Sister Mary Lucretia, received the white veil.

STRUCK ON THE HEAD.—Mathew Mackay, a longshoreman, while assisting to discharge a cargo of railroad iron from the Countess of Derby, which is moored at the foot of Madison street, met with a very serious and probably fatal accident. Mackay was at work in the hold, and as two rails were being hoisted, he was struck on the head with the end of a rail. A fracture was made in his skull, making an opening into the brain. Dr. Watkins was called to dress the wound, and the man was conveyed to St. Vincent's Hospital. His injuries are very serious, and but slender hopes of his recovery are entertained. At a late hour last night Mackay was resting easily.

TO-DAY'S RACES.—The steamer City of Quincy, with barge, will leave the foot of Morrison, (not Washington) street at noon and 1:30 P. M. for the City View driving park. The first race will take place at two. The mile and repeat race will be more than ordinarily interesting. The horses are handicapped so that they are as nearly equal as good judgment can make them, and no one can guess the winner. Ladies accompanied by gentlemen will be admitted free.

TO TAXPAYERS.—Mr. Geo. C. Sears, county assessor, has a very important announcement to every taxpayer in this country. Unless they furnish his office with a statement of their assessable property, he will be compelled to close their assessments, leaving out their exemptions for indebtedness. As the time for receiving statements has nearly expired, they should govern themselves accordingly, and not make complaints for reduction after it is too late to secure them.

INSTALLATION.—The following officers have been installed for the ensuing term for Paradise Spring Lodge No. 28, I. O. G. T.: W. C. T., Benj. Woods; W. V. T., Miss Dora Francis; W. S., H. W. Prettyman; W. F. S., Estevan Francis; W. T., Miss Ida Francis; W. C., John Robinson; W. M., Miss Bertha Baker; W. I. G., H. Freeborough; W. O. G., D. B. Shearer; P. W. C. T., Mrs. R. D. Prettyman. The lodge is in a prosperous condition.

B. B. EXCURSION.—To-morrow the Star base ball club of this city will give an excursion to Oregon City. A match game has been arranged between the Star club and the Haymakers of Oregon City, which will commence at 12 o'clock M. All who desire to see a good game should not fail to go on the excursion. The steamer Washington has been chartered for the trip and will leave the foot of Morrison street at 10 A. M. to-morrow.

COMMITTED.—Yesterday the Chinaman who was arrested Thursday, charged with assaulting the old German, Ferdinand Deitriaw, on the macadamized road Wednesday night, was examined before Justice Davis. The evidence of his guilt was quite conclusive, and the celestial was held to await the action of the grand jury. Not being able to furnish the bonds required the defendant was committed to the county jail.

BOAT LAUNCHED.—The new stern wheel steamboat belonging to Capt. Joseph Kellogg, the old pioneer river man, was very successfully launched from the ways above Smith's saw mill, on Thursday afternoon. The craft is small but will be when finished, a very neat one. Work is being pushed forward and the new boat will be ready to make the trial trip about the 1st of September.

GRAIN AND GRASSES.—Mr. Wm. Kern, who lives near Mount Tabor, has left at this office a bunch of grain and grasses which is of unusual height. The bunch contains stalks of wheat, timothy, blue grass and clover. The grain was sowed in April, and by actual measurement it is 5 feet and 10 inches. The timothy is 5 feet and ten inches; blue grass, 4 feet 9 inches; clover, 4 feet.

PREPARING ESTIMATES.—W. S. Chapman, city surveyor, is at present preparing estimates for the improvement of Second street in this city. That part of the street between A and Morrison is to have stone block pavement, and from Morrison to Madison is to be macadamized. The estimates will be ready and the contract let next week.

TWO ACCIDENTS.—A few days ago a son of Emory Harris, on Flatwood, in Clarke county, W. T., was trying to draw water with a rope, when he caught one foot in the rope and fell and broke his arm. The next morning, while Mr. Harris was gone with his son to get the arm set, the baby fell in the fire and was burned quite seriously.

GONE TO ASTORIA.—Mr. M. F. Mulkey, deputy district attorney, received a dispatch last evening from Hon. J. F. Caples, requesting him to come to Astoria. He will leave this morning on the boat. From this dispatch it would appear that the case of state of Oregon vs. J. G. Robeson will probably be called for trial early next week.

OPEN TEMPERANCE MEETING.—At the Open Temperance meeting to-night at Y. M. C. A. hall Dr. Avery will address the meeting, Miss Lena Morgan will sing and Prof. Motschman will play some fine selections on the piano. A cordial invitation is extended to the public.

A FREE LECTURE.—Lieut. Fred. Schwatka will on Monday evening next deliver a free lecture at Reed's Opera House in Salem and relate to his old time friends some of his experience on his northern trip. Reserved seats may be secured at Boon's book store for 25c each.

THE NEW CHURCH.—Work on the new Catholic church in East Portland is being pushed rapidly forward. It is thought that work on the interior will be so far advanced within three months as to enable the congregation to hold service in the building.

PROPOSED PRINTERS' PICNIC.—To-morrow afternoon at 2:30, the printers of this city will hold a meeting at No. Four's engine house for the purpose of making arrangements for a grand picnic to be held late this month.

A FAST TRIP.—The Lurline left Astoria at 6:25 Thursday morning for Portland, reached here and returned to Astoria at 9:22 P. M. Her running time was 13 hours and 14 minutes for the round trip.

SPECIAL MEETING.—Mayor D. P. Thompson has called a special meeting of the common council for next Monday evening. The meeting is called for the transaction of general business.

For sixty cents we will send you a microscope, postage paid. HENRICHSEN & GREENBERG.

SOCIAL NOTES.

Several parties are being organized at Jacksonville to visit Crater lake, one of the great wonders of the world.

Mr. Frank Osborn of Eugene, was married at Walla Walla, Wednesday, to Miss Addie Bristol of that city, the ceremony taking place at the residence of Mr. James Humphrey.

The following engagements were announced this week:

Miss Bertha Mayer, daughter of Mr. Jacob Mayer, to Mr. Herman Zadig, of San Francisco.

Miss Emma Fleischner, niece of Col. L. Fleischner, to Mr. Rudolph Goldsmith, of the firm of John Cran & Co.

Miss Linda Arnold, sister of Mrs. M. W. Fechheimer, to Mr. Emil Frank, of the firm of Meier & Frank.

THE ECKLESON-NICKELL WEDDING.

Last Tuesday morning, the 2d inst., Mr. Albert O. Eckleson was married at Jacksonville to Miss Sophia Q. Nickell, Rev. M. A. Williams officiating. The ceremony took place at the residence of Mr. Henry Pape, treasurer of Jackson county, and was witnessed by only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties and a few intimate friends. Mr. Eckleson is a member of the engineering corps of the Northern Pacific railroad, located at New Tacoma. The bride is a sister of Mr. Chas. Nickell, editor of the Democratic Times. The couple were the recipients of many handsome presents. After a splendid wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Eckleson took the north bound stage for Roseburg, and proceeded directly to New Tacoma, which will be their future home.

THE SCHWAB-McCANEY WEDDING.

Wednesday evening Mr. Samuel D. Schwab was married to Miss Octavia McCaney of Dayton, Oregon. The ceremony took place at the residence of Mr. R. H. Schwab, corner Tenth and Alder, and was performed by Rev. Dr. A. L. Lindsley. Many handsome presents were received. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Schwab, Mr. and Mrs. R. [illegible], Mr. and Mrs. R. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. [illegible], Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. "THE POWER OF 'SOCIETY.'"

A New York paper illustrates the integral power of "society" by the following incident, which occurred at a New York dinner party. A gentleman was requested to take down to dinner a lady between whose family and his own a bitter feud, complicated with successive lawsuits, had existed for years. He and she went down together, and [illegible] [illegible]

RECEPTION TO LIEUT. SCHWATKA.

In view of the recent return of Lieut. Fred. Schwatka to his home in this city, Alert Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1 decided in an impromptu manner to tender him a reception in which all members of their company participated, and invitations were sent to the officers of the other companies, to members of the board of fire delegates, representatives of the press and a few specially invited guests from outside of the department. Lack of room alone prevented them from making the invitation more general. At the conclusion of routine business at their regular meeting last evening Lieut. Schwatka was introduced by Mayor Crawford in an appropriate speech which was responded to by the lieutenant himself, who in turn was followed by others, and the meeting having adjourned, a short time was spent in social converse and congratulation, when those present were invited to visit the "regions below," where a table was spread laden with the various delicacies of the season, prepared by Messrs. Strong & Bain, and all being seated, an hour or more was very pleasantly spent in discussing the viands and listening to short addresses by various well known speakers. The affair throughout was a grand success and the Alerts proved themselves fully equal to the occasion, and certainly deserve great credit on their management of so pleasant an impromptu affair.

ACKERMAN'S.

The success of the very novel method of selling goods at Ackerman & Co's. Dollar Store is certainly marvelous to say the least. The moment their doors are thrown open till a late hour in the night their spacious store is kept crowded, giving their vast number of sales ladies, men and Lilliputian army of cash boys all the work they can attend to. Everybody wonders how they can sell their costly wares at the uniform price of One Dollar for it must be remembered that every dollar invested buys one dollar's worth, whilst the investor takes the chances of buying one hundred and fifty dollars worth for his one dollar. Our esteemed townsman Mr. W. H. Williams, architect, was again one of the numerous fortunate ones in buying that elegant Moss Rose French China, full dinner and tea set worth $125 for one dollar. Mr. A. H. Johnson, the well known wholesale butcher, bought a costly article, but is undecided as yet what of the many beautiful things to select. To-day will undoubtedly be a rushing day with them for, by this time, "Ackerman's one dollar sale" is a household word, and not only among grown people, but even the little folks open their savings banks to buy something at Ackerman's to agreeably surprise their parents with. We noticed to-day that they have added some very new and handsome goods to their various departments, and to properly arrange them their store will be opened one hour later from the fixed time, viz., at 10 o'clock this morning. For the middle of next week a very extraordinary attraction will be offered, the nature of which we are not at liberty to disclose yet. "I'm going to Ackerman's," is the word.

A GENEROUS AND PUBLIC-SPIRITED ACT.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Within the past few weeks it has transpired that there were debts of considerable magnitude outstanding against the late association that erected the state university building, and that over $4500 of the amount had been decided by the supreme court to be a lien upon the same, and that it would be sold to satisfy the judgment therefor, unless means were taken for their speedy payment.

A few days since Mr. Henry Villard telegraphed to me, inquiring the amount of the indebtedness. I replied that I thought it was about $7000. On the following day I received this telegram:

NEW YORK, Aug. 2, 1881.

Judge Matthew P. Deady: Will be glad to donate $7000 to liquidate university indebtedness, and you may draw on me for that amount.

(Signed), H. VILLARD.

Upon consultation with the executive committee and resident regents, it was decided to accept the generous offer, which was done, and within ten days the amount will be placed to the credit of the treasurer of the regents, at the First National bank of this city.

MATTHEW P. DEADY.

AMUSEMENTS.

MIRROR OF IRELAND.—Next Tuesday evening Dan Morris Sullivan's "Mirror of Ireland" and comedy company will appear at New Market theater. Their entertainment is thus spoken of by the S. F. Post—"The Mirror of Ireland is a very excellent entertainment, of a purer school than the public generally patronizes, but as bright and lively as can be wished for. Mr. Dan Sullivan and his wife are the life of the play, which is illustrated by a hundred excellent views of Irish scenery. The moonlight effects on the lakes of Killarney are exceptionally good, and the allegorical pictures of Ireland in her glory and in her captivity are most effective. Mr. Sullivan as Marshal Pat is nightly encored as is also Mr. Geo. F. Moore in the character of Simple Simon." The box sheet will open at D. W. Prentice & Co's. music store at 9 o'clock this morning.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Dayton, Hall & Lamberson are prepared to supply the trade with everything in their line.

John Cran & Co have a large stock of gossamer and underwear for men, women and children. Prices to suit all.

Special attention is called to the advertisement of the Northwestern Marriage Insurance Co. (a home institution) found elsewhere. Policies of from one thousand to ten thousand dollars each issued to unmarried persons at the rate of $5 per year on each thousand for males under eighteen and females under sixteen; and $6 per year on each thousand for all above those ages, for the period of four years, and thereafter, during married life, at the rate of one dollar per year. Policies are payable at the end of the year at which marriage occurs, at the rate of 25 per cent. for every year from date of policy.

ANSWERS TO NUMEROUS QUESTIONS.

Manufacturing the greater portion of our stock and buying from manufacturers direct we are enabled to undersell any establishment in the United States.

We reset DIAMONDS in any style.

We manufacture any article in the jewelry or silverware line to order.

ENGRAVING on gold, silver and ivory tastefully executed.

Any WATCH MOVEMENT now manufactured with any style of GOLD, SILVER, COMPOSITION, NICKEL OR CELLULOID case we can supply.

Our Solid Gold jewelry department consists of the latest novelties.

In silver and silver-plated ware, spoons, forks, etc., our stock is large and well selected.

Diamonds, pearls and other precious stones we have set in all suitable articles in the line, and have unquestionably the largest stock in Portland.

We have facilities for GOLD AND SILVER PLATING. To the latter we call the attention of HOTEL KEEPERS. Spoons and forks and fancy pieces can be replated to be as good as new, and to cost considerably less than the new. Send quantities that require replating and we will send rates.

In CLOCKS we have a full assortment.

SPECTACLES, EYEGLASSES, and all articles connected with the optical line, our stock is complete. We have the only OPTIMETER (eyemeasurer) on the coast, and are enabled to test the strength or weakness of EACH EYE SEPARATELY, thereby enabling persons to obtain proper glasses who have heretofore found it difficult to be fitted.

In addition to above articles we have a complete and well selected stock of ROLLED GOLD JEWELRY. All dealers and merchants handling goods in our line will find it to their advantage to call on us when coming to the city, or send their orders, as we are enabled to supply them at the same rates, often lower than they can buy of jobbers and middlemen in the east and San Francisco. GOODS SENT ON SELECTION to parties known to us (charges to be paid by purchaser both ways) with privilege to return within a reasonable length of time. Goods sent per W. F. & Co., C. O. D., with the privilege to examine at express office, to any one, when charges both ways are deposited in W. F. & Co's office.

Our watch repairing department is in the hands of the most skillful workmen. Fine watch repairing particularly solicited. Ship chronometers rated by transit observations.

Old gold and Jewelry taken in trade and bought outright for cash.

BARGAIN ROOM FOR CLOTHING.

We can lose profits, but we mustn't lose sales. We have divided our clothing into two parts. One part consists of that which must be sold quickly at whatever price it'll bring quickly in August. The other part consists of that which'll go any way. The former is marked down sharply in proportion to the urgency of each case. It consists largely of whole suits for men and boys of all sizes, and parts of odd garments. If we had no other clothing but this which is marked down we should have a large stock, we may say, a full stock. It's good clothing as we have in store is among it.

NOTES OF INTEREST FROM ASTORIA.

[illegible]

The arrival in our harbor to-day of the steamer Los Angeles brings to recollection her last visit to this port about five years ago, and of the tragic fate of her then commander, Capt. Jeff C. Howell, who was afterwards lost with 250 others in the unfortunate steamship Pacific. Well do we remember his arrival in this city on that occasion, bringing news of the disablement and danger of the Los Angeles off Tillamook head. How, as his only desperate chance, he had left his ship with two volunteers in an open boat, and how bravely and miraculously he had made a safe landing through the heavy surf, and on foot along the rocky shore he hastened to this city to secure needed help to save his ship from drifting on to the rocks, and his passengers from a watery grave, both of which, through his heroic efforts, were happily accomplished. And when the steamer with her broken shaft, was towed into our harbor, and her passengers safely landed, well do we remember the words of gratitude and commendation they bestowed on her brave commander.

VANCOUVER NOTES.

[REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE.]

VANCOUVER, Aug. 5, 1881.

Hospital Steward John Schmidt has been relieved from duty at Fort Stevens and goes to Camp Spokan, vice Cassidy deceased. Steward Henry Ferrier, going to Fort Stevens and Steward Dillon replacing him at Port Townsend.

The milk wagon belonging to Mr. Blurock indulged in a runaway this morning, which will probably cause the death of a valuable horse, a splinter of the tongue having penetrated the animal's chest to the depth of about eight inches.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH IS OVER.

Business is quiet all over the city; but ISAAC BARMAN don't feel the effect of it.

THE REASONS ARE:

That he still continues to sell the immense stock of Clothing and Gent's Furnishing Goods, which he bought of Mr. A. MEYER at such very low figures, at prices that will astonish the closest buyer.

That his entire stock must be sold on or before the 1st day of September, in order to make room for his immense fall stock.

That he is offering Great Bargains, having reduced—

Suits from $15 00 to $10 00
Suits from $17 50 to $12 50
Suits from $20 00 to $15 00
Suits from $22 50 to $17 50
Suits from $25 00 to $20 00

That he is offering his entire stock of Furnishing Goods at 75 cents on the dollar.

That he has marked down his entire stock of Scarfs and Ties at 50 cents on the dollar.

That he is compelled to raise money, and he will not let up until he has it.

CITY.

RACES TO-MORROW.—Lovers of the amusement of turf sport should not forget the running races announced to come off to-morrow afternoon under the auspices of private parties, over the track at the City View park. Some very exciting tests of speed may be confidently expected, as will be seen on the advertisement. $100 in purses will be offered. The steamer City of Quincy and a large barge have been chartered to convey all to the track who may desire to witness the races. Boats will leave Morrison street wharf at 10 and 11:30 A. M. and 1:30 P. M. Tickets to grounds 75c, ladies free. No lady allowed on the grand stand unless accompanied by a gentleman. The best of order will be enforced. A brass band will be in attendance on the grounds during the day. Admission to the grand stand 25 cents. The following horses have entered for the mile and repeat: Jack Doud, Miss Patty Duffy, Ban Martin, Nora Wintry, Screwdriver, Mayflower, Glenn Clark.

TAKING THE VEIL.—On Thursday the chapel of St. Mary's Academy presented a scene of unusual interest. The occasion was the solemn reception of postulants and novices into the community of the Sisters of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary. The chapel was neatly, tastefully and elaborately decorated for the occasion, and was crowded by the young ladies' relatives and friends, to witness the beautiful ceremonies of their religious profession. Most Rev. Archbishop Seghers officiated, assisted by the chaplains, Rev. Fathers Glorieux and Metayer. On the occasion Archbishop Seghers delivered an appropriate address to the following young ladies: Sisters Mary Ignatius, Octavia, Marcella, Agnes, who made their perpetual vows. Sisters Mary Stella, Cassilda and Juliana, the novices, Miss Sarah Murphy, in religion Sister Mary Catherine, and Miss Mary Dugan, in religion Sister Mary Lucretia, received the white veil.

STRUCK ON THE HEAD.—Mathew Mackay, a longshoreman, while assisting to discharge a cargo of railroad iron from the Countess of Derby, which is moored at the foot of Madison street, met with a very serious and probably fatal accident. Mackay was at work in the hold, and as two rails were being hoisted, he was struck on the head with the end of a rail. A fracture was made in his skull, making an opening into the brain. Dr. Watkins was called to dress the wound, and the man was conveyed to St. Vincent's Hospital. His injuries are very serious, and but slender hopes of his recovery are entertained. At a late hour last night Mackay was resting easily.

TO-DAY'S RACES.—The steamer City of Quincy, with barge, will leave the foot of Morrison, (not Washington) street at noon and 1:30 P. M. for the City View driving park. The first race will take place at two. The mile and repeat race will be more than ordinarily interesting. The horses are handicapped so that they are as nearly equal as good judgment can make them, and no one can guess the winner. Ladies accompanied by gentlemen will be admitted free.

TO TAXPAYERS.—Mr. Geo. C. Sears, county assessor, has a very important announcement to every taxpayer in this country. Unless they furnish his office with a statement of their assessable property, he will be compelled to close their assessments, leaving out their exemptions for indebtedness. As the time for receiving statements has nearly expired, they should govern themselves accordingly, and not make complaints for reduction after it is too late to secure them.

INSTALLATION.—The following officers have been installed for the ensuing term for Paradise Spring Lodge No. 23, I. O. G. T.: W. C. T., Benj. Woods; W. V. T., Miss Dora Francis; W. S., H. W. Prettyman; W. F. S., Estevan Francis; W. T., Miss Ida Francis; W. C., John Robinson; W. M., Miss Bertha Baker; W. I. G., H. Freeborough; W. O. G., D. B. Shearer; P. W. C. T., Mrs. E. D. Prettyman. The lodge is in a prosperous condition.

B. B. EXCURSION.—To-morrow the Star base ball club of this city will give an excursion to Oregon City. A match game has been arranged between the Star club and the Haymakers of Oregon City, which will commence at 12 o'clock M. All who desire to see a good game should not fail to go on the excursion. The steamer Washington has been chartered for the trip and will leave the foot of Morrison street at 10 A. M. to-morrow.

COMMITTED.—Yesterday the Chinaman who was arrested Thursday, charged with assaulting the old German, Ferdinand Delrlaw, on the macadamized road, Wednesday night, was examined before Justice Davis. The evidence of his guilt was quite conclusive, and the celestial was held to await the action of the grand jury. Not being able to furnish the bonds required the defendant was committed to the county jail.

BOAT LAUNCHED.—The new stern wheel steamboat belonging to Capt. Joseph Kellogg, the old pioneer river man, was very successfully launched from the ways above Smith's saw mill, on Thursday afternoon. The craft is small but will be when finished, a very neat one. Work is being pushed forward and the new boat will be ready to make the trial trip about the 1st of September.

GRAIN AND GRASSES.—Mr. Wm. Kern, who lives near Mount Tabor, has left at this office a bunch of grain and grasses which is of unusual heighth. The bunch contains stalks of wheat, timothy, blue grass and clover. The grain was sowed in April, and by actual measurement it is 5 feet and 10 inches. The timothy is 5 feet and ten inches; blue grass, 4 feet 9 inches; clover, 4 feet.

PREPARING ESTIMATES.—W. S. Chapman, city surveyor, is at present preparing estimates for the improvement of Second street in this city. That part of the street between A and Morrison is to have stone block pavement, and from Morrison to Madison is to be macadamized. The estimates will be ready and the contract let next week.

TWO ACCIDENTS.—A few days ago a son of Emory Harris, on Fishwood, in Clarke county, W. T., was trying to draw water with a rope, when he caught one foot in the rope and fell and broke his arm. The next morning, while Mr. Harris was gone with his son to get his arm set, the baby fell in the fire and was burned quite seriously.

GONE TO ASTORIA.—Mr. M. F. Mulkey, deputy district attorney, received a dispatch last evening from Hon. J. F. Caples, requesting him to come to Astoria. He will leave this morning on the boat. From this dispatch it would appear that the case of state of Oregon vs. J. G. Robeson will probably be called for trial early next week.

OPEN TEMPERANCE MEETING.—At the Open Temperance meeting to-night at Y. M. C. A. hall Dr. Avery will address the meeting. Miss Lena Morgan will sing and Prof. Motschman will play some fine selections on the piano. A cordial invitation is extended to the public.

A FREE LECTURE.—Lieut. Fred. Schwatka will on Monday evening next deliver a free lecture at Reed's Opera House in Salem and relate to his old time friends some of his experience on his northern trip. Reserved seats may be secured at Boon's book store for 25c each.

THE NEW CHURCH.—Work on the new Catholic church in East Portland is being pushed rapidly forward. It is thought that work on the interior will be so far advanced within three months as to enable the congregation to hold service in the building.

PROPOSED PRINTERS' PICNIC.—To-morrow afternoon at 2:30, the printers of this city will hold a meeting at No. Four's engine house for the purpose of making arrangements for a grand picnic to be held late this month.

A FAST TRIP.—The Lurline left Astoria at 6:05 Thursday morning for Portland, reached here and returned to Astoria at 9:22 P. M. Her running time was 13 hours and 14 minutes for the round trip.

SPECIAL MEETING.—Mayor D. P. Thompson has called a special meeting of the common council for next Monday evening. The meeting is called for the transaction of general business.

For sixty cents we will send you a microscope, postage paid. HENRICHSEN & GREENBERG.

PERSONAL.

Mr. H. Gallick, brother of Wm. Gallick, is a passenger on the incoming steamer and comes to Portland to engage in business. He has leased the room now occupied by Moody & Valentine, for a boot and shoe store.

Rev. J. McCormac returns to Astoria by this morning's steamer to prosecute his bethel labors among seamen, fishermen and others, at Astoria and Knappton. This gentleman seems well adapted to this peculiar field of mission work.

AUCTION SALES.

Oscar Kilbourn will sell at the premises, No. 161 Second street, between Morrison and Yamhill, next Monday morning, a lot of very choice and desirable furniture.

HAIR CUTTING.

Three of the finest workmen in the state are at Ferguson's hair cutting headquarters, 10 Stark street.

The Scandinavian Society will give its fourth Annual Picnic and Excursion on Sunday, August 7, 1881, at the Willamette Grove. Steamer [illegible] leaves foot of Alder street at 10 and 11:30 A. M. and 1 P. M. and 3:30 P. M. Last boat leaves the grounds at 7 P. M.

SOCIAL NOTES.

Several parties are being organized at Jacksonville to visit Crater lake, one of the great wonders of the world.

Mr. Frank Osborne of Eugene, was married at Walla Walla, Wednesday, to Miss Addie Bristol of that city, the ceremony taking place at the residence of Mr. James Humphrey.

The following engagements were announced this week:

Miss Bertha Mayer, daughter of Mr. Jacob Mayer, to Mr. Herman Zadig, of San Francisco.

Miss Emma Fleischner, niece of Col. L. Fleischner, to Mr. Rudolph Goldsmith, of the firm of John Cran & Co.

Miss Linda Arnold, sister of Mrs. M. W. Fechheimer, to Mr. Emil Frank, of the firm of Meier & Frank.

THE ECKLESON-NICKELL WEDDING.

Last Tuesday morning, the 2d inst., Mr. Albert O. Eckleson was married at Jacksonville to Miss Sophia Q. Nickell, Rev. M. A. Williams officiating. The ceremony took place at the residence of Mr. Henry Pape, treasurer of Jackson county, and was witnessed by only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties and a few intimate friends. Mr. Eckleson is a member of the engineering corps of the Northern Pacific railroad, located at New Tacoma. The bride is a sister of Mr. Chas. Nickell, editor of the Democratic Times. The couple were the recipients of many handsome presents. After a splendid wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Eckleson took the northbound stage for Roseburg, and proceeded directly to New Tacoma, which will be their future home.

THE SCHWAB-McCAMEY WEDDING.

Wednesday evening Mr. Samuel R. Schwab was married to Miss Octavia McCamey of Dayton, Oregon. The ceremony took place at the residence of Mr. R. H. Schwab, corner Tenth and Alder, and was performed by Dr. A. L. Lindsley. Many handsome presents were received. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Schwab, Mr. and Mrs. R. RECEPTION TO LIEUT. SCHWATKA.

In view of the recent return of Lieut. Fred. Schwatka to his home in this city, Alert Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1 [illegible] to tender him a reception in which all members of their company participated, and invitations were sent to the officers of the other companies, to members of the board of fire delegates, representatives of the press and a few specially invited guests from outside of the department. Lack of room alone prevented them from making the invitation more general. At the conclusion of routine business at their regular meeting last evening Lieut. Schwatka was introduced by Major Crawford in an appropriate speech, which was responded to by the lieutenant himself, who in turn was followed by others, and the meeting having adjourned, a short time was spent in social converse and congratulation, when those present were invited to visit the "regions below," where a table was spread laden with the various delicacies of the season, prepared by Messrs. Strong & Bain, and all being seated, an hour or more was very pleasantly spent in discussing the viands and listening to short addresses by various well known speakers. The affair throughout was a grand success and the Alerts proved themselves fully equal to the occasion, and certainly deserve great credit on their management of so pleasant an impromptu affair.

ACKERMAN'S.

The success of the very novel method of selling goods at Ackerman & Co's. Dollar Store is certainly marvelous to say the least. The moment their doors are thrown open till a late hour in the night their spacious store is kept crowded, giving their vast number of sales ladies, men and Lilliputian army of cash boys all the work they can attend to. Everybody wonders how they can sell their costly wares at the uniform price of One Dollar for it must be remembered that every dollar invested buys one dollar's worth, whilst the investor takes the chances of buying one hundred and fifty dollars worth for his one dollar. Our esteemed townsman Mr. W. H. Williams, architect, was again one of the numerous fortunate ones in buying that elegant Haviland French China, full dinner and tea set worth $125 for one dollar. Mr. A. H. Johnson, the well known wholesale butcher, bought a costly article, but is undecided as yet what of the many beautiful things to select. To-day will undoubtedly be a rushing day with them for, by this time, "Ackerman's one do lar sale" is a household word, and not only among grown people, but even the little folks open their savings banks to buy something at Ackerman's to agreeably surprise their parents with. We noticed to-day that they have added some very new and handsome goods to their various departments, and to properly arrange them their store will be opened one hour later from the fixed time, viz., at 10 o'clock this morning. For the middle of next week a very extraordinary attraction will be offered, the nature of which we are not at liberty to disclose yet. "I'm going to Ackerman's," is the word.

A GENEROUS AND PUBLIC-SPIRITED ACT.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Within the past few weeks it has transpired that there were debts of considerable magnitude outstanding against the late association that erected the state university building, and that over $4000 of the amount had been decided by the supreme court to be a lien upon the same, and that it would be sold to satisfy the judgment therefor, unless means were taken for their speedy payment.

A few days since Mr. Henry Villard telegraphed to me, inquiring the amount of the indebtedness. I replied that I thought it was about $7000. On the following day I received this telegram:

New York, Aug. 2, 1881.

Judge Matthew P. Deady: Will be glad to donate $7000 to liquidate university indebtedness, and you may draw on me for that amount.

(Signed.) H. VILLARD.

Upon consultation with the executive committee and resident regents, it was decided to accept the generous offer, which was done, and within ten days the amount will be placed to the credit of the treasurer of the regents, at the First National bank of this city. MATTHEW P. DEADY.

AMUSEMENTS.

MIRROR OF IRELAND.—Next Tuesday evening Dan Morris Sullivan's "Mirror of Ireland" and comedy company will appear at New Market theater. Their entertainment is thus spoken of by the S. F. Post—"The Mirror of Ireland" is a very excellent entertainment, of a purer school than the public generally patronize, but as bright and lively as can be wished for. Mr. Dan Sullivan and his wife are the life of the play, which is illustrated by a hundred excellent views of Irish scenery. The moonlight effects on the lakes of Killarney are exceptionally good, and the allegorical pictures of Ireland in her glory and in her captivity are most effective. Mr. Sullivan as Marshal Pat is nightly encored as is also Mr. Geo. F. Moore in the character of Simple Simon." The box sheet will open at D. W. Prentice & Co's. music store at 9 o'clock this morning.

ANSWERS TO NUMEROUS QUESTIONS.

Manufacturing the greater portion of our stock and buying from manufacturers direct we are enabled to undersell any establishment in the United States.

We reset DIAMONDS in any style.

We manufacture any article in the jewelry or silverware line to order.

ENGRAVING on gold, silver and ivory tastefully executed.

Any WATCH MOVEMENT now manufactured with any style of, GOLD, SILVER, COMPOSITION, NICKEL OR CELLULOID case we can supply.

Our Solid Gold jewelry department consists of the latest novelties.

In silver and silver-plated ware, spoons, forks, etc., our stock is large and well selected.

Diamonds, pearls and other precious stones we have set in all suitable articles in the line, and have unquestionably the largest stock in Portland.

We have facilities for GOLD AND SILVER PLATING. To the latter we call the attention of HOTEL KEEPERS. Spoons and forks and fancy pieces can be replated to be as good as new, and to cost considerably less than the new. Send quantities that require replating and we will send rates.

In CLOCKS we have a full assortment.

SPECTACLES, EYEGLASSES, and all articles connected with the optical line, our stock is complete. We have the only OPTIMETER (eye measurer) on the coast, and are enabled to test the strength or weakness of EACH EYE SEPARATELY, thereby enabling persons to obtain proper glasses who have heretofore found it difficult to be fitted.

In addition to above articles we have a complete and well selected stock of ROLLED GOLD JEWELRY. All dealers and merchants handling goods in our line will find it to their advantage to call on us when coming to the city, or send their orders, as we are enabled to supply them at the same rates, often lower than they can buy of jobbers and middlemen in the east and San Francisco. GOODS SENT ON SELECTION to parties known to us (charges to be paid by purchaser both ways) with privilege to return within a reasonable length of time. Goods sent per W. F. & Co., C. O. D., with the privilege to examine at express office, to any one, when charges both ways are deposited in W. F. & Co's office.

Our watch repairing department is in the hands of the most skillful workmen. Fine watch-repairing particularly solicited. Ship chronometers, rated by transit observations.

Old gold and Jewelry taken in trade and bought outright for cash.

BARGAIN ROOM FOR CLOTHING.

We can lose profits, but we mustn't lose sales. We have divided our clothing into two parts. One part consists of that which must be sold quickly at whatever price it'll bring quickly in August. The other part consists of that which'll go any way. The former is marked down sharply in proportion to the urgency of each case. It consists largely of whole suits for men and boys of all sizes and parts of odd garments. If we had no other clothing but this which is marked down we should have a large and, we may almost say, a full stock. As good clothing as we have in store is among it.

The arrival in our harbor to-day of the steamer Los Angeles brings to recollection her last visit to this port about five years ago, and of the tragic fate of her then commander, Capt. Jeff. C. Howell, who was afterwards lost with 260 others in the unfortunate steamship Pacific. Well do we remember the arrival in this city on that occasion, bringing news of the disablement and danger of the Los Angeles off Tillamook head. How, as his only desperate chance, he had left his ship with two volunteers in an open boat, and how bravely and miraculously he had made a safe landing through the heavy surf, and on foot along the rocky shore he hastened to this city to secure needed help to save his ship from drifting on to the rocks, and his passengers from a watery grave, both of which, through his heroic efforts, were happily accomplished. And when the steamer, with her broken shaft, was towed into our harbor, and her passengers safely landed, well do we remember the words of gratitude and commendation they bestowed on her brave commander.

Royal [illegible] Rev. J. N. Denison spoke feelingly of the last hours of the deceased, and dwelt lovingly upon the glorious ending of so spotless a life, whose every energy had been for the advancement of church interests. After the rendition by [illegible] Bishop Kavanaugh of the M. E. church south, was introduced and made a very touching remarks, paying high tribute to the memory of the deceased, with whom he had been more or less intimate in the past. This closed the exercises at the church and the funeral cortege at once proceeded to Lee Mission cemetery, where the exercises were conducted by Bishop Kavanaugh in person, and all that remained mortal of Bishop E. O. Haven was committed to mother earth. Ashes to ashes, dust to dust.

DRY GOODS, CLOTHING.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH IS OVER.

Business is quiet all over the city; but ISAAC BARMAN don't feel the effect of it.

THE REASONS ARE:

That he still continues to sell the immense stock of Clothing and Gent's Furnishing Goods, which he bought of Mr. A. MEYER at such very low figures, at prices that will astonish the closest buyer.

That his entire stock must be sold on or before the 1st day of September, in order to make room for his immense fall stock.

That he is offering Great Bargains, having reduced—

Suits from $15 00 to $10 00

Suits from $17 50 to $12 50

Suits from $20 00 to $15 00

Suits from $22 50 to $17 50

Suits from $25 00 to $20 00

That he is offering his entire stock of Furnishing Goods at 75 cents on the dollar.

That he has marked down his entire stock of Scarfs and Ties at 50 cents on the dollar.

That he is compelled to raise money, and he will not let up until he has it.

Make use of the opportunity before it is too late.

SATURDAY MORNING, AUGUST 6, 1881.

THAT YANKEE WHALER.

One of the most striking headlands on the east coast of South Africa is the bluff of Natal. Its majestic position, standing boldly out from the main land and rising straight up from the blue ocean to a height of several hundred feet, the brilliant hues of the thousand and one varieties of tropical foliage which cover its steep sides from top to bottom, the clear skies above and the bright plumage of the birds flashing in the sun, all contribute to make the spot picturesque in the extreme. In the maze of the jungle undergrowth on the bluff at the time of which I am writing, leopards, tiger-cats, monkeys, serpents and other beasts and reptiles [illegible] with the precipitous sides and wild entanglement insuring protection from the attacks of the hunter.

Within the last few years a road has been made up the bluff, and a lighthouse now crowns the summit. The inner or northern side of the bluff forms one side of the bay of Natal, while low sand hills inclose it on the north. The northern coast is irregular, and a sand hill projecting far into the bay almost cuts it into two parts, so forming a double harbor. From this point the harbor stretches a mile, and the water being there very shallow, vessels of large size are prevented from passing into the inner harbor. On account of the impossibility of emigrant ships sailing over the bar, the early emigrants were transported from the ships to the beach in the inner harbor in large surf boats, and frequently had to be carried through the surf to the shore by the Kaffirs. On the sand hill that divides the bay there stands a look-out and the harbor-master's house; and about two miles up the south shore is situated the town of Durban, the only road to which at the date of this story, was through the bush-path.

Early one afternoon in the hottest days of the summer of 185 , the thermometer registering something like 110 degrees in the shade, the bay as calm as glass and the beach quite deserted, the men in the look-out were surprised to see a long, rakish looking schooner sailing round the bluff and drop anchor in the outer bay. No sooner was she brought to than a whale boat was lowered from her side. The harbor-master hurried down, followed by a half a dozen men, and before the boat reached the shore a small crowd of white men and Kaffirs had gathered round. As the boat ran on to the shingle a tall, sallow man, whose bony frame, sharp eyes and features proclaimed him an American before he spoke, jumped ashore and asked in a sharp nasal tone:

"Who's boss here?"

"I am the port-captain," said that functionary stepping forward. "Do you want me?"

"Wal, yes, I do—some. I'm cap'n of the Southern Cross schooner—thar she is. She's sprung a bad leak, and I want to beach her here and examine her timbers. My lads is almost done up with pumpin'. She's fillin' most awful quick, and I want some men to come off and take a hand at the pumps; my crew can't keep on much longer I guess."

"Where are you from and where bound, captain?" asked the harbor-master.

"I've bin cruisin' after whales, and there's a pile of ile aboard. But, sir, if we don't stop palaverin' here I shan't get my vessel beached. What men can you get me now, quick?"

"There's plenty of Kaffirs about," said the harbor-master; "but you must get permission before you take any of 'em off to your ship."

"Permission!" echoed the stranger. "Wal, I never! Who's got charge of this lot? Who do they belong to?"

They don't belong to anybody. This is a British colony, captain. But you must get leave to take 'em aboard, or else you can't have 'em" replied the harbor-master in an emphatic manner.

"Who'll give me permission—you?" asked the captain.

"No, I can't; you must go and get a magistrate's order."

"Whar's he to be found? Jest show me the way. Look sharp, boss, cos I'm in a mortal hurry, you know."

The harbor-master turned away, saying—"Up in Durban, and—"

"How fur's that?" broke in the Yankee.

"A good two miles through the bush-path. You'll have to get a horse."

"Whar'll I git one?" asked the captain.

At this moment Mr. McKay, the government land agent, who, full of officious curiosity, had come down from the custom house, pushed his way through the crowd and said:

"I'll lend you a horse, captain. Come this way."

"You're very obligin' sir," said the captain, turning and following the agent. "I'll accept your offer and feel honored."

In a few minutes the horse was produced, and a negro engaged to run ahead and show the way. As the captain mounted the horse he turned to the harbor-master and said:

"You'll be able to find boats enough to take fifty niggers off at once, eh?"

"Oh, yes, we can do that."

"Wal, now," said the stranger as a parting observation, "ain't it a plaguey shame that a man can't save his ship without all this palaver? Here's the Southern Cross—as smart a schooner as ever sailed under stars and stripes—a makin' water like mad, and I've got to go through all this performance afore I kin git a few niggers to pump." And he rode away towards Durban.

The magistrate not only gave the captain the necessary order, but opened a bottle of wine, and, drinking to his success, promised any further assistance that might lie in his power; and in two hours after leaving the harbor the stranger was half way back again.

During his absence all had been bustle at the harbor. More Kaffirs had come down in the hope of being hired, and great was the amount of speculation as to the terms likely to be offered. These Natal Kaffirs are runaway Zulus, who, having once deserted, are barred from returning to Zululand under penalty of death. They are both brave and intelligent, and are a much finer set of men than the negroes of the west coast.

From the lookout the crew of the schooner could be seen pumping incessantly; and Mr. McKay, whose offer of the horse was instigated more by the hope of profit, than by disinterested kindness, for he was the owner of the surf boats, was waiting for the stranger's return, and calculating the amount he would realize by the business.

Sooner than could have been expected the captain came riding up at a rattling pace, and jumping from the horse, said:

"Here's the permission, boss, all correct and complete. And now, how many niggers can I have?"

"Just as many as you like," said the harbor master; they are waiting to be hired."

"Now, sir, what time in the mornin' ken I git over this bar? I draw ten feet of water."

"Tide flows at six o'clock, and you could come over at eight, I should say," responded the harbor-master.

"Good. Wal, now, you boys, I'll give you seven-and-sixpence apiece to come and take turns all night. There's a powerful lot o' water in the hold by this time, and you'll hev to work, I tell you."

The pay was high and a murmur of satisfaction ran through the crowd; those among the Kaffirs who did not understand English having it explained to them by those who did. The terms were good enough for many a white man standing around to jump at; but to work side by side with negroes was too degrading, and they were obliged to let the chance pass.

"Well, boys, what say?" asked the Yankee.

Several voices accepted the terms, and the harbor-master asked how many he would engage.

"Just stand in a row boys and I'll pick out the likely ones. Be smart, the sun'll be down before we git aboard, if you don't be slick."

The Kaffirs were soon in line. The captain walked up and down surveying them and carefully picking out the biggest and strongest, until he had selected about sixty. This was a large number for the work; but it was put down by Mr. McKay and the harbor-master to Yankee enterprise; and in a few minutes the surf-boats with all the negroes on board were afloat.

"I'll come off to you in the morning, captain, and bring you a pilot," said the harbor-master.

"Wal, now, that's friendly of you, boss. Really, if you would I should take it kind," responded the Yankee.

"I will," said the harbor-master; "I'll come off when the tide makes."

"Thank you, sir," said the captain, as he stepped into the whale-boat. "You won't forget to come will you?"

"Of course not," replied the harbor-master. "Good-night."

"Good-night," said the stranger with a grim smile, waving his hand as the boat pulled away.

When the surf-boats returned the men with them reported the Southern Cross to be just as smart and trim a craft as the captain had said she was. They also reported the safe transference of the dingy volunteers. The sun went down, and in ten minutes the scorching hot day had given place to a beautiful tropical night.

Before the sun had arisen on the following morning, the port captain, Mr. McKay and the lookout men were already assembled on the sand point; and as the first flush of daylight came rapidly spreading over land and sea, they strained their eyes across the sea, eager to catch an early glimpse of the schooner whose arrival and condition had caused such unusual excitement the day before. Well might they start and stare in speechless astonishment. There was the bay all right, and there was the bluff beyond it, but nothing else! No Southern Cross! Nothing to mark where she had been on the previous night. What could it mean? Could she have broken away and gone ashore? Impossible, for the wind, a mere capful, was off the land.

"She's gone!" was the first exclamation which broke the silence. "Clean gone!"

"What can it mean?" asked Mr. McKay.

"Mean?" said the harbor-master; "it means that we're all darn fools. That's what it means."

"Why, how?" gasped the bewildered agent.

"How?" responded the harbor-master. "Why was he so particular about the sort of Kaffirs he engaged? Wouldn't any kind of Kaffirs do for whaling, perhaps? Of course they would. I can see it all now. She was no whaler, she had sprung no leak. She was a Yankee slaver, that's what she was, and we ought all to be shot for not seeing it before."

A thrill of horror passed through the group. It was clear as daylight now.

"But we saw them pumping the water out of her," said the agent, after a pause.

"Of course you did. But you did not see the other side of her, did you, Mr. McKay?"

"Well, no," responded the agent.

"No; but if you had you'd have seen 'em pumpin' the water in. That's what it is, Mr. McKay; the rascals were pumpin' it in on the starboard side, an' out again on the port. Don't you see?"

"Yes, I see now," sighed the agent.

"Sixty niggers kidnapped before our very eyes!" continued the harbor-master. "A pretty thing, upon my word."

"Beg pardon, sir," said one of the men, "p'r'aps she's in sight now, sir, if we was to pull off in a boat round the bluff head, sir."

"What's the good of that?" growled the harbor-master.

"Only p'raps we might see what course she was takin'; and in case the admiral was to come round we could see which way she was a-goin', sir."

"Oh, she's out o' sight by this time, never fear," said the harbor-master, "but man the boat, and we will see."

Away went the men to get the boat out; and away went the harbor-master and Mr. McKay after them down the beach.

"No wonder he was so particular, the rascal! Why, every one of those Kaffirs will fetch five hundred dollars in America. He's done a very fair day's work, and no mistake, Mr. McKay."

"Yes, and never paid me for the hire of my boats," dolefully responded the agent, "and I lent the scoundrel my horse, too."

"Well, it's no use now. But where our senses were, Mr. McKay, to be outwitted like that, I can't think. I shall hear of this again. If only the admiral would cruise around here, we might catch 'em now; but we shan't see him for months maybe. It's about the deepest move that I ever heard of."

By this time the boat was out and manned, and a hearty pull took them to the bluff head in half an hour, but no sign of the slaver was to be seen.

The next day a southern-bound brig dropped anchor in the outer bay, and sent ashore for some fresh meat. The harbor-master went off to her, and gave the captain a letter to deliver to the admiral if he fell in with him, or to leave it at the cape if he did not. Although the latter reached the admiral within a week, and he put off to sea on the chance of falling in with some news of the Southern Cross, no more was ever heard of the Yankee whaler.

REDUCING IRON ORE.

The processes for the reduction of iron from its ores have been greatly improved of late years, so that we may now obtain a very good quality of metal from ores which contain considerable quantities of sulphur and phosphorus. By the process in common use the ores are mixed with coal, limestone or other suitable material, charged into a blast furnace and the iron cast into pigs. Lately, however, the so-called "direct-method" has been coming into favor, and from the latest experiments it would seem that the removal of the most troublesome impurities is easily accomplished by this method. In outline, the new process is conducted as follows: The ore is ground to a coarse powder and intimately mixed with lime, clay and carbon. This mixture is then molded into the form of hollow cylinders, about 15 inches high by 8 inches in diameter, the walls being about 3 inches in thickness. These cylinders are then placed quite close together upon the hearth of a large reverbatory furnace, and a high heat is immediately applied. The object of molding the cylinders is to enable the heat to rapidly act upon the ore. Under these circumstances, the carbon of the mixture reduces the iron of the ore to a metallic state, but the metal is not fused, as in the blast furnace. It remains in the form of the original cylinder, mixed with a slag that contains most of the impurities, and is known as spongy iron. It is well known, however, that the flame of a reverbatory furnace is naturally an oxidizing flame, and naturally tends to burn up any iron that may be exposed to its action, and the spongy iron is in a condition peculiarly adapted to rapid oxidation. This difficulty has been ingeniously overcome by careful attention to the nature of the slag, which, in several ways, plays an important role in this process. The slag must be a non-flowing slag, so that it will not run away from the iron, but remain as a covering to protect it from the oxidizing flame. It must also be a basic slag, for then it removes the phosphorus and sulphur. In the course of one and a half or two hours the reduction is complete, and the cylinders of spongy iron are ready for the mechanical operations of squeezing to remove the slag and rolling into bars. The great value of the process may be more fully appreciated when it is stated that puddle cinder, which contains an average of over 50 per cent. of iron, and which, owing to the large amount of phosphorus and other impurities, is practically a waste product, may be economically worked by this process, and converted into a good merchantable iron at a single heat. About one ton of muck bar may be obtained from three tons of puddle cinder, and the percentage of phosphorus reduced from 2 per cent. in the cinder to less than 0.4 in the metal. It has taken a long time to bring the direct process to its present state of perfection, but now that its advantages are so well known we may expect it to supercede all others. In the old process the ores sometimes required a preliminary roasting, then the metal had to be cast into pigs, then remelted and puddled for the removal of impurities before it was ready to be rolled into bars, and during the puddling a considerable quantity of the metal is oxidized and passes into the puddle cinder above mentioned. By the new process the preliminary roasting is never necessary, and the bar metal is produced by a single heat of not more than two hours' duration. It can readily be seen, therefore, that there is a considerable saving of fuel and labor in the direct process. By the use of ores quite free from phosphorus an excellent open-hearth steel may be produced by the direct fusion of the spongy iron without the mechanical removal of the slag. Practical tests of the iron produced show that it will make the finest grades of crucible steel.

The New Orleans Times, apparently deeming forbearance no longer a virtue, bursts forth with an arraignment of that city such as no paper outside the corporate limits could make. It declares New Orleans to be "the most misgoverned, the most hoodlumized, the most beknaved and bebummered of all cities. The great city lies, like a huge, fat carcass, stretching in the July sun, and the buzzards tear, and devour, and croak, and claw, each buzzard greedy to get all he can from the next buzzard." The hoodlum appears to be the direct provocative of this refreshing outbreak. "The howling hoodlum" the Times calls him, and from the description given of his nature and habits he must rival his namesake of the sand lots. A movement is afoot to suppress this element of society, or at least restrict its energies so far as to render the public streets safe for public travel, by the establishment of a committee of public safety, not to resort to lynch law, but to be a terror to the recreant officeholders, whose neglect to enforce the laws has made the rule of the hoodlum a possibility.

Feuds Ended.

[Troy Times.]

His power is broken, so far as the carrying out of any sinister purpose is concerned. The only hope of rehabilitation as a party leader that remains to him lies in the direction of silence for the present. It will be difficult for him at best to regain the commanding eminence from which he has so foolishly precipitated himself. The republican party in the state of New York will hereafter be governed by the preferences of a majority of its members and not by the wishes of a single individual, and in that way retain the confidence of patriotic citizens, whatever may be their personal estimate of the merits and qualifications of particular men. The day of serious factional feuds has passed forever, as we hope and believe. Republicans can and will act together for the furtherance of a common cause, rather than the glorification of a personal idol.

A Forcible Comparison.

[N. Y. World.]

If it were permitted to compare great things with small, we should say, after mature deliberation, that Mr. Conkling's action in resigning his seat was like unto that of the hopeful farmer who hitched himself up with a lusty yearling steer in order to accustom the animal to the yoke. Shortly afterwards he was heard exclaiming, "Head us off! Blame our [illegible] souls, here we come!" * * * When after thirty-six hours of hard work the doctors brought him to what passed for his senses the old gentleman remarked: "That air steer hasn't more'n a dozen jumps before I realized that I had made a mistake!"

The Pall Mall Gazette says that of all the tasks that fashion requires at the hands of her slaves, the giving of a ball is most to be dreaded.

SAN FRANCISCO FREIGHT MARKET.

The Present High Position Considered by Many Impregnable.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—The strength of the freight market [illegible] a very severe test at the commencement of the week, caused by the [illegible] on Saturday and Sunday of [illegible] suitable for wheat, increasing the [illegible] and the disengaged list [illegible] tons. There was also a determined effort made to break the market, and that it has remained firm throughout is [illegible] upon by many as sufficient proof that the position of freights is for the present impregnable, and that no material fluctuation will occur during the remainder of the calendar year. This opinion is not shared by all as some believe that further heavy additions to spot tonnage would cause a break, arguing that the long delay in the arrival of the last fleet caused an extraordinary demand which, being now supplied, further heavy arrivals can only be placed at a sacrifice. There is one point not generally noticed, that gives strength to the belief in high freights, which is the situation of wheat supply. During the past week some 7,000 tons have been taken by exporters and there are about 130,000 tons more stored at tide water which are also in the hands of shippers. This for the present, makes them to a great extent independent of wheat holders. Total arrivals since the last report have a carrying capacity of nearly 16,000 short tons, and the whole fleet in port has a capacity of about 110,000 tons, so that there is, if the estimate above be correct, ample supply of wheat in shippers' hands for immediate wants, though it is not excessive when the chartered tonnage fully due is taken into account. Ships that have arrived disengaged have been in demand, and there are but four remaining free. These are held firmly; spot charters show that the market has been steady with increasing firmness at the close. There is also a demand for ships to arrive and £3 7s 6d has been refused for iron tonnage, December cancellation, which shows if nothing else that there are still believers in high rates for the end of the year.

NEW YORK FREIGHTS AND MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Dullness still prevails in the freight market via Cape Horn, and ships in berths make slow progress in completing their cargoes. At the same time rates remain very steady and there is no indication of a decline. Tonnage, although not plenty, is offered more freely to arrive on a basis of 38 per ton, dead weight, and several negotiations are pending for well known vessels in this trade. Overland freights are quite active and the movement includes considerable quantities of dry goods, boots and shoes, carpets, etc.; also 1360 packages tobacco, 500 cases pepper sauce, 350 boxes roasted coffee, 60 cases canned goods, 103 cases sauce, 25 kegs herring, 1228 pkgs gunpowder, 42 cases wine, 135 coils rope.

Markets still quiet but firm in many instances.

Wheat—Market opened excited on efforts of bulls to get shorts to cover, while there were less favorable reports from the French harvest and orders here to buy for the continent. On all these influences a boom of 1@1½ cents was worked up, but there were too many sellers and prices fell back, the market closing weak.

Pork—Neglected.

Lard—Opened 10@15c higher, but prices fell back at the close.

Rio Coffee—Fairly active and very firm.

Refined Sugars—In better demand and prices higher.

Hides—Unchanged.

Turpentine—Dull but firmer and higher.

Petroleum—Unchanged.

THE BOSTON WOOL MARKET.

BOSTON, Aug. 5.—This has been a quiet week if it can be called quiet when sales amount to 2,000,000 pounds and upwards. There has been some concession of fine fleeces, but most holders are firm and indifferent about selling. Sales of Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia have been 40@42c for X and XX, and 43c for XXX and above. Michigan fleeces 39@40c for X, but quiet at these prices. Buyers freely offering 37½@38c. Medium and No. 1 fleeces, including Ohio and Michigan have been selling at 41@47c, and combing and delaine selections have been in demand at 44@45c for fine delaine; 40@45c for fine and medium combing. Unwashed combing has been sold at 25@33c for coarse and medium, including considerable Missouri at 30@31c. Unwashed fleeces have been in steady demand at 16@23c for low and coarse; 25@31c for fine; 27@32c for medium, including considerable West Virginia. Medium and combing wools appear to be most sought after, and are in a quiet and steady way, while there is a pressure to bear fine wools down to lower prices. California wools have been quiet and in pulled wools there were moderate sales at steady prices. In foreign wool nothing of any consequence has been done.

SOMETHING EVERY LADY OUGHT TO KNOW.

There exists a means of securing a soft and brilliant Complexion, no matter how poor it may naturally be. Hagan's Magnolia Balm is a delicate and harmless article, which instantly removes Freckles, Tan, Redness, Roughness, Eruptions, Vulgar Flushings, etc., etc. So delicate and natural are its effects that its use is not suspected by anybody.

No lady has the right to present a disfigured face in society when the Magnolia Balm is sold by all druggists for 75 cents.

45 Years Before the Public.

THE GENUINE

DR. C. McLANE'S

CELEBRATED

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE.

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER.

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

King of the Blood

Is not a "cure all," it is a blood purifier and tonic. Impurity of blood poisons the system, deranges the circulation, and thus induces many disorders, known by different names to distinguish them according to effects, but being really branches or phases of that great generic disorder, Impurity of Blood. Such are Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Constipation, Nervous Disorders, Headache, Backache, General Weakness, Heart Disease, Dropsy, Kidney Disease, Piles, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Skin Disorders, Pimples, Ulcers, Swellings, &c., &c. King of the Blood prevents and cures these by attacking the cause, Impurity of the Blood. Chemists and physicians agree in calling it "the most genuine and efficient preparation for the purpose." Sold by Druggists, $1 per bottle. See testimonials, directions, &c., in pamphlet, "Treatise on Diseases of the Blood," wrapped around each bottle.

Osborne & Co., Portland, Or.: Gentlemen—After two days' hard labor [illegible] Woods' Twine Binder [illegible] I have failed to make it do [illegible] tried an Osborne, and am happy to say [illegible] up to this writing it has not failed for one minute to do perfect work [illegible] And before this [illegible] one of your machines [illegible] the last and only machine on which we farmers can fully depend. My men [illegible]

H. A. DAVIS.

D. M. OSBORNE & CO., Portland, Or.

OPEN LETTER FROM M. YOUNG, OF GERVAIS.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: My attention having been called to a "yellow poster" which is being circulated by the Wood's Twine Binder Agents, wherein my statement of the field trial of self binding harvesters, which took place on my farm June 21st, is published very differently from what I signed it. I did not say that the Wood's Binder pulled any easier than the other machines would with three horses. I did not say that the Wood's Twine did not clog in the pea-vine, for I know that it did. I did not say that the Wood's Binder did better work than the other two machines competing. I did not say that the Wood's Binder left less scattered grain where their bundles lay than the other machines did. I did not say that I would be qualified to any statement made. I did say, however, that all the machines did better work than I expected they would.

In conclusion I would say that a large portion of my published statement was erased by me before signing, and no one was authorized to make any such statement over my signature. While I consider the different machines competing did fair work, there is still room for improvement, and my sole object in making any statement whatever was in the interest of the farmers and not the machine men. I consider some of the statements made relative to the trial decidedly too highly colored and should be taken with considerable allowance.
